

Together Pharma Applies for Cannabis Export Permit from Israel:

The company participates in the export pilot program by the Ministry of Health, announced Sunday

Together Pharma has hundreds of kilograms of inflorescences for producing EU-GMP standard oils, which it plans to export

Ashkelon, October 5, 2020 – Together Pharma (TASE: TGDR), which specializes in cultivating and manufacturing of medical cannabis products, has announced that as part of the preparations for the export of medical cannabis products from Israel, the company is taking part in a cannabis export pilot project by the Israeli Ministry of Health, launch yesterday (Sunday) with intent to expedite export permits for companies that subsidize the price of medical cannabis products for the Israeli market.

As part of the pilot project, Together will offer a significant discount on a large part of the products it is currently selling in Israel, which will now be sold for NIS 100-140 for a 10 gram package. The company will apply to the Ministry of Health to receive a permit.

"Receiving an export permit represents the realization of the company's business strategy to expand internationally to sell medical cannabis to target markets in Europe and Brazil, both from Israel and from Uganda", says Together Pharma CEO Nissim Bracha. "We today already have hundreds of kilograms of inflorescences ready for extracting EU-GMP standard oils, so that it is our plan to work for immediate exports, according to the regulations in the target countries."

Together is set to complete construction of the factory and trading offices that it owns, covering an overall 750 SqM, and with production capacity of about 50 tons of medical cannabis inflorescences annually. The factory and trading offices will be an important link in Together's value chain for manufacturing the finest quality products as well as medical cannabis products from its farm in Ashkelon, in addition to the medical cannabis products that Together imports from its farm in Uganda.
